

SWIFT PARROT

Swift Parrots come to Tasmania to breed during the summer and fly back to the mainland over winter, where they can be found in South Eastern mainland Australia.

They are unique as they are one of only three parrots in the world that migrate.

Swift Parrots are critically endangered as they are nearly extinct in the wild.